ABOUT IIM SHILLONG

The Indian Institute of Management Shillong (IIM Shillong) emphasizes the need for and importance of ethical and responsible leadership, along with a focus on sustainable management principles. The Institute is guided by its belief in academic freedom and provides a close-knit environment for academic and professional growth. The Institute is committed to developing contextual intelligence amongst its learners, in addition to a focus on cutting-edge functional/domain knowledge and skills across teaching, research, and consulting/advisory services.

IIM Shillong is in a picturesque location in Shillong, which is also referred to as the Scotland of the East. The 120-acre campus at Umsawli is flanked by green on all sides, with clouds often descending, giving it the slogan 'Campus in Clouds'. The Institute believes in learning from communities and assimilating that learning with the existing domain knowledge to develop sustainable strategies for organizations and societies. The thick community context of the region adds to the right 'humbling attitude' of the managers. Established around the time when management science had already reached a stage of a paradigmatic shift in how the world looks at businesses and all modern organizations, climate change, sustainable development, and indigenous concepts are the key turnaround moments in the practice and theory of management that require impetus to innovate for solutions. IIM Shillong believes in imbibing innovation as a thought process and encourages its participants to think beyond the obvious as they venture into solving issues related to organizations and societies. In doing so, the participants are encouraged to also learn about indigenous knowledge and Indian knowledge system, which are a reservoir of sustainability practices.
